

Thick, oily fur keeps the beaver warm and dry	Thick, oily fur keeps the beaver warm and dry	Thick, oily fur keeps the beaver warm and dry	Thick, oily fur keeps the beaver warm and dry
Front paws have fingers to grab sticks.	Front paws have fingers to grab sticks.	Front paws have fingers to grab sticks.	Front paws have fingers to grab sticks.
Back paws are webbed to help the beaver swim.	Back paws are webbed to help the beaver swim.	Back paws are webbed to help the beaver swim.	Back paws are webbed to help the beaver swim.
Tail can be slapped on the water to warn others of danger.	Tail can be slapped on the water to warn others of danger.	Tail can be slapped on the water to warn others of danger.	Tail can be slapped on the water to warn others of danger.
Transparent eyelids help the beaver see under water.	Transparent eyelids help the beaver see under water.	Transparent eyelids help the beaver see under water.	Transparent eyelids help the beaver see under water.
Ears have a special flap to keep water out.	Ears have a special flap to keep water out.	Ears have a special flap to keep water out.	Ears have a special flap to keep water out.
Front teeth are strong and never stop growing.	Front teeth are strong and never stop growing.	Front teeth are strong and never stop growing.	Front teeth are strong and never stop growing.